Overwhelmed with résumés?

Hire Golden has developed the perfect selection tool for today's fast-moving recruiting world of "one-click" résumés.

We have turned the challenge of unlimited résumés into an unprecedented opportunity to screen the masses for the very best workers. Rather than running from quantity, we seek it out. For each of our hiring engagements, we source the largest pool of qualified candidates we can find, quickly filter through them, and select the very best ones for you to interview and hire.

To do this, we have developed the perfect selection tool for this new Internet recruiting world. It's a "hassle-free" process that works equally well identifying great secretaries and great sales people as it does selecting great engineers and CEOs. The process is so fast, so accurate, and so dramatically more efficient than the traditional screening methods, we back our placements with an unconditional 36-month guarantee.
